This trip to the water treatment plant is a good experience. I have longed to visit the water treatment plant but did not have the chance. Although we have already learnt about the process before, I found it really interesting to see how the water we are drinking is made. The most interesting part is to see how to clean the filters though the smell really sucks. It surprised me how dirty the filters are which means how dirty the water is before treatment. I regret that I did not try the treated water. It would be a rare experience. Although there is not much to see in the treatment plant, overall I enjoyed that day very much.
