This activity gives me a chance to understand more health. It provides lots of games, machines and descriptions. It seems that washing hands is an easy action, but most of us make some careless mistakes. Therefore, I think the health centre is simple but useful which remind the public a lot about health.

After a visit of the health centre, we learn a lot of knowledge about the hygiene of our environment and home. From the centre, we know that the formation and what are the factors caused mosquito, so we should always treat the waste water and prevent the growth of the mosquito because they can spread the diseases and harm our life
