

This is an area where it separates oil and the polluted water. As the area is dangerous, if a person fall into the tank, he will be drowned. Therefore, safety is very important.