

This machine is used to press the solid waste in order to take out the water in the waste and make it ready for other process.